c Hardening Pack v0.1

Author: Ivan Kotov

Date: 2026-05-22

Purpose

---

This package collects public technical hardening profiles for the  $c = a + b$  corpus and its runtime-adjacent evidence surfaces. It is intended as a local package and PDF assembly index for review, traceability, and controlled reading order.

Relationship To $c = a + b$ , L4, SER, L4 Witness, LHWAI, And ester-clean-code

The c Hardening Pack v0.1 is positioned as a companion hardening layer around the authored  $c = a + b$  corpus. It connects continuity evidence, claim-to-evidence mapping, runtime traceability, L4 enforcement boundaries, public red-team response, and semantic drift controls.

It relates to L4 as a runtime enforcement boundary. It relates to SER as part of the broader authored recursion and evidence discipline. It relates to L4 Witness through traceability and continuity evidence surfaces. It relates to LHWAI as a parent witness anchoring and interpretation profile. It relates to ester-clean-code as a public implementation-adjacent reference surface without granting deployment authority.

Publication Boundary

---

This local README and the PDFs assembled from it are for local package/PDF production only. This build does not publish, upload, push, or create a public release.

Implementation Boundary

---

This package is not an implementation kit, not a deployment package, not a legal compliance guarantee, not a GDPR compliance claim, not an AI Act compliance claim, not product certification, and not a conformance claim.

Generation Note

---

This README was generated for local package/PDF assembly because no source README was present in the input source directory. The generated file exists only in the build directory and does not modify the Downloads source files.
